Home Care Advisory Group: Empowering you and your loved ones to make informed decisions

Home Care Advisory Group has developed an efficient system that ensures clients receive the support they need with minimal hassle or worry on their part. Each required step is taken on the client's behalf, removing any unnecessary concerns in their time of need. Completing the Medicaid application tends to be a difficult beginning for many applicants.

HCAG aims to minimize senior stress with the following system:

- Contact Home Care Advisory Group online or by phone for help.
- A Certified Senior Care Advisor will confirm eligibility in a few basic questions.
- The Advisor will identify the required documents needed from the client.
- The client will return the completed documents to HCAG.
- The application will then be submitted.
- HCAG will follow up with Medicaid officials for updates.
- The pending application will be monitored until fully processed.

- The client will be notified of approval and long-term care strategies will begin.

Once the Medicaid application has been completed, one of the most difficult parts of receiving in-home care is no longer an obstacle. This may only be the beginning for many seniors seeking to age in place, but Home Care Advisory Group wants to make sure they are not alone and are guided through each phase efficiently and transparently.

The standard overview of gathering essential services includes, but is not limited to:

- Applying for Medicaid: Home Care Advisory Group can get this started online or over the phone.
- Getting a Medicaid Managed Long-Term Care (MLTC) plan: Once approved for Medicaid, an MLTC plan will be contacted for services.
- Supplying income and assets documentation: Verifies what extent of services the client has immediate access to without further planning by HCAG.
- Completing a medical assessment: A doctor or other qualified healthcare professional has to verify the current medical condition for plausible need.
- Developing a care plan: The service provider works to achieve a balance between a patient's wants and needs, where applicable.

Home Care Advisory Group wants to help individuals with low-income receive the same medical services as those of higher economic means. Home care is thought to be a cost-effective and convenient solution for improved patient outcomes, which helps seniors maintain a higher quality of life, sense of dignity, and a renewed independence.

With more than 7.4 million New Yorkers enrolled in Medicaid, the potential for diverse circumstances and conditions can appear to grow exponentially very quickly.
