

Veteran-Owned Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio Brings Custom Ink to Your Doorstep

Newark, NJ—Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio, founded by Retired U.S. Army Staff Sergeant Daniel Wright, Jr., gained national recognition for its use of tattoo art therapy in helping veterans with PTSD. After being wounded in action during a deployment to Iraq and receiving the Purple Heart, Wright discovered the healing power of art while participating in an art therapy program. Motivated by his own experience, he established Marzmade Studios to support his mental health and has extended that mission to tattoo enthusiasts across America.

Whether you are a veteran looking for a way to cope with the challenges of PTSD or a tattoo obsessed civilian looking for a unique and personal tattoo experience, Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio is at your service. With its focus on custom body art and a commitment to providing a safe and supportive environment, Marzmade Studios is the perfect place to get a tattoo that has both personal and therapeutic meaning.

Ink on the Go!

"I bought a sprinter and converted it myself into a mobile tattoo studio," says Wright, AKA Marzmade D'Martian, when recounting the studio's beginnings.

Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio is not just a tattoo shop. It's a traveling art gallery that brings custom body art and joy to comic cons and conventions across the United States. The studio's inventive approach to tattooing is winning fans nationwide for its dedication to making art available to all.

Marzmade converted a Mercedes-Benz Sprinter into a mobile tattoo studio to reach more people at festivals, conventions, and private events. The Sprinter is equipped with everything the studio needs to deliver a high-quality tattoo experience, including a fully functioning tattoo station, a comfortable waiting area, and a selection of art supplies.

Whether you're a comic book fan, a tattoo enthusiast, a veteran or just someone who appreciates art, Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio is a must-visit. With its unique take on tattooing and its pledge to make art accessible to everyone, Marzmade is sure to leave you inspired and uplifted.

The Future of Ink is Mobile

For Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio, the future lies in the mobile concept rather than a traditional brick-and-mortar shop. The ability to bring tattoo art directly to the customers has gained the studio international recognition. Marzmade's artisanship has been featured on VH1's Black Ink Crew and Black Ink Crew Chicago, reaching curious audiences across the country.

The demand for Marzmade's unique tattoo experience has increased, with requests coming from lone wolves, honeymooners, and all forms of connected communities. This success has paved the way for future plans to franchise the Marzmade Mobile concept.

Testimonials Speak for Themselves

Marzmade's quotes for success are simple yet powerful: "Work hard and believe in yourself. 'No' never killed anyone. Be yourself because there is no better person to be you than YOU."

These quotes reflect Marzmade's own work ethic and calling for service. They have led to multiple local accolades for community service, up to national honors from the President of the United States of America.

"I've received multiple tattoos from Marz who has provided nothing short of excellence with his tattooing, and customer service," states Anthony M from Pennsylvania

"Marzmade Studios provides quality tattoos and a unique experience in a sterile environment," another Marzmade advocate continues.

The Art of Healing

Over forty percent of veterans screen positive for mental health issues, according to the Department of Veterans Affairs. Marzmade Mobile Tattoo Studio recognizes the need and is dedicated to helping veterans cope with the trauma of war.

Marzmade's art therapy initiative is making a difference. The studio donates free tattoos to wounded veterans, coordinates peer-to-peer mentorship programs, and collaborates on projects focused on veteran suicide prevention. Marzmade's nonprofit organization is at the forefront of these initiatives and is making a positive impact on the lives of veterans nationwide.
